It's Coming! The New Normal

But what will it look like? For Cursillo, the answer to that question rests on our shoulders. Forging ahead means making decisions in the face of uncertainty. COVID-19 is fading and normalcy, of a sort, is emerging. During our months in the desert, we have not stood still. We have discovered the benefits of Zoom and have begun working together in ways not possible without virtual presence.

We find it easier to visit Ultreyas when they are as close as our computers, phones, or tablets. The Ultreya leaders have started meeting together to help craft the Fourth Day in collaboration with our Fourth Day committee leaders. Together we are thinking about how to balance virtual and in-person Ultreyas and events to better serve our community.

Group Reunion and Ultreya are the heart and soul of the Cursillo Method, and if we find new and better ways to support these functions, we will not only find it easier to grow as mature Christians, but our Cursillo community will thrive.

But what about weekends? This new normal is not without uncertainties. We hope and pray that the pandemic is over, but Autumn usually brings the return of the viruses, including the corona viruses.

With that in mind, we are now looking toward the Autumn of 2022 for the next Women's Weekend and the following Spring for the Men's Weekend, BUT, and this is particularly important, there cannot be a weekend without candidates. As all of us emerge from enforced isolation, we must pray, study our environments, and prepare candidates for these weekends. It's not too early to start. We would like to have at least two candidates from each Ultreya and more if possible. The time is now! So, go make a friend.

Make a friend,
Be a friend,
Bring a friend to Christ.

To help us prepare candidates, Pre-Cursillo is partnering with the Three Day Committee to remind us how to sponsor, prepare, and walk with a candidate for the year following the weekend.

If you haven't been to Cursillo School of Leaders lately, come in July and learn about the history of our movement and at the same time begin to study the encyclical written by Pope Francis during the pandemic, "Fratelli Tutti." It's beautifully written and does not skirt around the hard problems facing all of us as citizens of our neighborhoods and of the world. CSOL is virtual, so you can get there without facing rush hour traffic.

The glue that keeps us all together is our Communications Committee. They stepped out, bought a license to Zoom, and trained any of us willing to become hosts. We are moving to a diocesan platform for sending notices. Some of you may already be receiving Flock Notes from your parish and shortly you will be receiving Flock Notes from Cursillo. We are doing everything we can to improve service and reduce costs, but don't forget our Treasurer would love to see the extra change from your pocket or couch.

This year, both despite and because of the pandemic, has been exciting for Cursillo. Wouldn't you like to join in on that excitement?

Become part of a committee. Many hands make labor light, and experience the joy of working with fellow sojourners in the process. Fourth Day and Pre-Cursillo are waiting to welcome you.

Whether as part of a committee or an active member of Ultreya, we need to see you and hear from you what would excite you in living the Cursillo Method. De Colores!

Essence of the Cursillo Movement

I recently came across this quote from Pope Francis' Fratelli Tutti. I often find things like this in reading the popes, but this one seems to me to capture the essence of the Cursillo Movement so very clearly. It comes from #88 and is expanded through the next several numbered sections. I highlighted some lines that really grabbed my attention.

"I cannot know myself apart from a broader network of relationships, including those that have preceded me and shaped my entire life. My relationship with those whom I respect has to take account of the fact that they do not live only for me, nor do I live only for them.

Our relationships, if healthy and authentic, open us to others who expand and enrich us. Nowadays, our noblest social instincts can easily be thwarted by self-centered chats that give the impression of being deep relationships. On the contrary, authentic and mature love and true friendship can only take root in hearts open to growth through relationships with others.

As couples or friends, we find that our hearts expand as we step out of ourselves and embrace others. Closed groups and self-absorbed couples that define themselves in opposition to others tend to be expressions of selfishness and mere self-preservation.”

Cursillo is so very deep! But at its very deepest core (at least the deepest that I can perceive) lies the fact, the absolute and unchangeable fact, that God loves us, and that we can come to experience and live this deep reality of His love in coming to experience the love others have for us and the love we have for them. Words are certainly inadequate to express these realities, but that's why we have Cursillo. We can live these realities together beyond any words. We live them in the WORD. Check out Fratelli Tutti if you have the time and feel like it. It's awesome! Here's a link:

Prayer for Healing of a Loved One....

O holy St. Anthony, God granted you the power to heal those afflicted with every kind of sickness. Hear our plea for Dennis Patterson who is ill and in need of your heavenly assistance. Obtain for him health in mind and body, and give him the strength to overcome pain and suffering. Quickly and completely restore him to the fullness of good health. Amen.

Fifth Day Corner

As Cursillistas, we live our Fourth Day, preparing to live our Fifth Day when the Lord calls us home. At this writing we say so long to Cursillistas and family members who began their Fifth Day this past quarter.

They were pilgrims on this journey of life. Now they rest in the arms of our savior. They have made their way to this Highway to Heaven. We will miss you dearly, but we know that you go before us, and we will see you again someday soon.

BILL STANTON ON THE FIFTH DAY

“You know, I struggle with Evangelization.” I worked on a Cursillo Team with a first-timer named Bill Stanton in the 1990s. When Bill said this, I responded, “That is the exact reason that God wanted you to give this talk.” Though not in my parish, not in my Ultreya, not in my group reunion, I talked to Bill Stanton monthly since being introduced to him. I last spoke to him about one month before he died when he shared that he was ready for whatever comes and if the experimental treatments he was scheduled for at Johns Hopkins did not work, he would not be with us. Then he told me, “Relax and don’t over do it, like you usually do.”

Bill was that best friend you wanted to be in your group reunion and lived a simple and joyful life in his struggle with Evangelization. In a talk about transforming environments, Bill shared more about the struggle saying, “If you struggle like I do at the shelter, then do it with love and eventually you will learn how to love.” Everything he shared with me was clear, simple, and always done in love. He was fond of his faith walk with Janice, and his long-time pastor, Fr Peter Daly.

His ideas about how to engage people of other races and locales was especially instructive to me and is a lesson frequently called upon today. Bill and I often discussed his experience of going to Pass Christian, MS as the parish adopted a Josephite parish that had been ravaged by Katrina. When he went into a white parish that did not suffer much damage, he suggested that they do what he and his community would do here. Why not invite them here and share our space, and work with them until the parish gets back on its feet.

From his lived experience of Cursillo here, he mistakenly anticipated that the Catholic Community in Pass Christian respond as his parish would. Bill pondered how to best serve people in need in the post-Katrina environment and every place that he saw need.

We served on teams together with Maury Mattingly. He was part of the St. John Vianney posse that supported me through deacon formation and early years after ordination. He and Janice, along with Maury and Nancy Mattingly, and George and Sandy Sullivan, were the strangers that Fr. Norvel talked about their presence at Mass in an African American setting before he was introduced to the Cursillo Community here. Bill would routinely send me books to read, always looking to help me grow in the faith. The posse feared for my life in 2008 when I did not appear for the institution as lector, missing the turn for Mattawoman Beantown Road. The posse was relieved that I arrived before the Mass ended. I was 20 minutes away when I spoke to Bill to let him know I was in-route then I missed the turn and did not regain my bearings for an hour. As was his custom he forgave me, noted that if Jennifer was with me (she was out of town), I would have made it. We then developed a tradition to have a conversation whenever I approached Mattawoman Beantown Road.

Bill was a man who lived in the light of the Resurrection. In his struggle with Evangelization, even in the darkest moments, Bill never failed to find the light of Christ where he was. His physical presence will be missed especially by Janice, their children, grandchildren, and the parish community at St. John Vianney. His mantra will be remembered, “If you struggle, then do it with love and eventually you will learn how to love.”

MARY TILGHMAN SHEARARD FIFTH DAY

We buried my sister, Mary Shearard on April 14, 2021. Mary was the sixth Tilghman family member to transition to her 5th day since Easter 2020. Mary was the picture perfect Cursillista. She was truly “the quiet one” in amongst the 13 children of Cyprian and Cecilia Tilghman. I think back over life shared with my sister Mary and note that she was the most soft-spoken of my siblings. She spoke to me of one disappointment in her life – she bet that I was a girl at birth only to discover in my first month home from the hospital that I was a boy with long hair.

This was another quiet moment in her life, not a lost bet but a moment of awakening. Mary was born on December 12, 1945. Mary was the oldest of the little people, the first among the last half of the 13 (Mary, Paulette, Joan, Angela, Jerome, and Timothy). My mother had the visitation on her mind at Mary’s birth, so she was baptized “Mary Elizabeth,” and so called by our mother. She pondered things quietly in her heart before acting. She had an eternal capacity to love that embraced her husband, George, children, grands, and great grandchildren from three different groups of children.

Surrounded by many who sought her counsel, there is not one among us who recalls Mary raising her voice in a situation other than providing a strong, on-key tenor voice in the Gospel choir.

People thought she was her baby sister, Angela’s twin and knew her as the mother of the twins, Marguerite and Marlisa, and the steady voice in the chorus. When she was not singing in the gospel choir at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, she could be found at St. Francis of Assisi, Landover Hills where she volunteered as an interpreter and an active voice in the deaf Catholic community.

As one who worked with the deaf, she encountered two of our family Cursillo companions on the journey. When asked about her church life, she would share that her baby brother was a deacon. This is where she encountered Charlene Howard and Stefanie Miles, who shared her enthusiasm for communicating in American sign language and delighted to encounter her spirit in sign language classes. Others encountered her on women’s ministry retreats. Wherever you encountered my sister Mary, you encountered the soft, steady loving voice of the Holy Spirit, the voice she brought into space where she dwelled.

Like the Blessed Mother for whom she was named, she was full of grace, which she shared with all. Her physical presence will be missed. Her spirit, which is that of the Holy Spirit, remains with us along with the memory of how she touched many lives. Ultreya!

Prayer

If you need a prayer and you can't think of one, try this:

O Holy Spirit, beloved of my soul, I adore You. Enlighten me, guide me, strengthen me, console me. Tell me what I should do; give me Your orders. I promise to submit myself to all that You desire of me and to accept all that You permit to happen to me. Let me only know Your Will.

SPOTLIGHTS ON CURSILLO

Fourth Day Committee

"What A Difference A Year and A Quarter Makes", to paraphrase an old song by Dinah Washington! (I'm dating myself here...). During the fear and distress caused by COVID19, starting in March of last year when everything came to a halt and was locked down (even Church), God has been with us as the pilot to steer us through these "Troubled Waters". I know, I seem to be on a bent for borrowing old song titles or lyrics, but it all works together as we journey on.

Church has officially been reopened as of this weekend, June 26th, and many venues in many states are opening for "regular" business. The verdict is still out on whether the reopening has been too soon. Still, there is a "D" variant of the coronavirus morphing as we move into the second half of this year that keeps the pandemic moving forward. We still do not know what damaging effect it will have on everything and everyone, or if all the vaccinations we have been through will protect us from this and future variants. The point being made is not to let the fear and distress caused by this pandemic cripple our faith and belief in the Trinity guiding us through this crisis.

Focusing on Christ and keeping our Cursillo connections strong with each other has helped many of us in our fourth day to keep walking and talking on the Zoom platform during this past year.

Hope for the light at the end of this viral tunnel has been with us all along as we journey together with Christ. In effect, we have been practicing our “Be a Friend, Make a Friend, and Bring a Friend to Christ” with each other as we have met in our Ultreyas or small groups. The July 9th NE/SE Cookout and Mass at Nativity Catholic Church that will be held in person, is the first sign that the light of this pandemic tunnel is shining brighter and a definite reason for our Cursillo rooster to crow!! See you all there and Ultreya!

SPOTLIGHTS ON THE COMMUNITY “Get Over and Get Out of Yourself!”

Thus says the LORD: Share your bread with the hungry, shelter the oppressed and the homeless; clothe the naked when you see them... Then your light shall break forth like the dawn, and your wound shall quickly be healed (Isaiah 58:7).

Many ask, “What is the path to happiness, healing, and fulfillment?” I think the answer is in investing your life into something outside of yourself. Ask yourself: What good is a voice that doesn’t speak, or a mind that doesn’t think or a heart that doesn’t care, or a hand that refuses to share?

What good is a Christian that doesn’t witness to Christ, or a spiritual counselor that offers no sound advice? What good is a truth that doesn’t set free or a soup kitchen that doesn’t think it should feed? What good is mercy that refuses to forgive or a charity that does everything but give? What about a parish that doesn’t serve or a courage that lacks all nerve? What good is a school that doesn’t teach; or an arm that doesn’t reach; a faith that won’t trust, or righteousness that’s not just? What good is a disciple that doesn’t follow; or a compassion that rings hollow? What about a leader that won’t lead or a child of God that won’t believe?

Christ’s words in today’s Gospel are meant to awaken his Body, the Church, to realize who it is so that it can then do what God always intended it to do. You ARE salt, so, SEASON! You ARE light, so SHINE! There is a passage in scripture that states, “the world eagerly awaits the revelation of the children of God” (Romans 8:19).

Maybe today the word “eagerly” is an understatement. For today the world “desperately waits” for the day that all believers live what they profess and preachers practice what they preach. Our world wants and needs the Church to witness to the Great Commandment of Love and the Great Commission to Evangelize!

For the Good News is too good to be kept hidden and those who have yet to hear it are too desperate to be kept waiting! The time is past due for God to get the Glory He deserves from the good works being accomplished in your life! Decide today to BE the reason that someone gives thanks to God that you crossed their path when they needed you the most.

IT'S IN OUR HANDS

A CALL TO SERVE

"Come after me and I will make you fishers of men."

_____Matthew: 4:12-23

Along my faith walk, I've always had this vision of myself walking with Jesus, taking long strides. But in my vision, I was ahead of him, dragging him by the hem of his garment. I'm reminded with this scripture, of what it means to be a follower.

When Jesus called his disciples, he did not ask them to lead him, he said, "Come after Me [as disciples—letting Me be your Guide], follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men!" (Mt: 4:19)

Many times, we miss out on our blessings by trying to do it ourselves. We suit up in our armor by reading Ephesians 6:13, but we fail to understand whose armor is really involved. Like my vision of myself, anxious to do for God, I missed the point.

You must "draw your strength from the Lord and his mighty power..." before the armor is effective. The way you do that is to "Put on the armor of God so that you may be able to stand firm against the tactics of the devil."

The call to discipleship is a call of service. That service leads us to the place where God can use us, either as leaders or followers.

Any calling that comes from God always benefits the people of God. When the calling we hear is our own, guess who benefits? Today, let us ask ourselves, which cup do I have? Is it empty waiting and willing to be filled or is it full? (LARSK)

Have you thought about what it would mean to our Cursillo community if you would answer the call to serve? Do you know that Cursillo School of Leaders committee needs help! Our 4th Day Committee and Cursillo School of Leaders could use your hands, hearts, and minds too. A Call to Serve is what we all answered when we took our cross on our weekend. When we were told, "Christ is counting on you", we each answered, "And I am counting on Christ." This is your moment to reach out and to enhance your 4th Day Walk. Check out the Secretariat Committees and see where you want to be, you are more than welcome to join! De Colores!

My Blessed Virgin Inspiration

LUKE 1:28 And he came to her and said,
“Greetings, favored one! The Lord is with you.”

Just as that angel came to Mary with that greeting, I feel that an angel of the Lord came to me as well. LUKE 1:38 Then Mary said, “Here am I, the servant of the Lord; let it be with me according to your word.” Then the angel departed from her.

Just as Mary said I will be Your willing and able servant, I too said Lord, I will be Your willing and able servant and do as You ask of me.

God has blessed me with two daughters. He entrusted me to love, nourish, and care for them. Just as Mary too was asked to love, nourish, and care for the Child Jesus.

Mary dedicated her life to raising this Christ Child according to the will of God. Mary was to have Him live according to the Commandments of God the Father. I too raised my children according to God’s will and taught them to live according to His commandments.

Mary was blessed and honored by God’s choice of her to mother His Only Son. I too was blessed by God with the birth of my two daughters. God continues to bless and multiply the blessings of those two children. From them I now have a host of grandchildren and great grandchildren. I have been blessed even further to live long enough to see great- great grandchildren.

I am the living witness of 5 generations of children. I thank You Lord for each of these blessings! It has been my goal as a mother, grandmother, and great grandmother to instill in all these children the love of God who is their Father, as He is the Father of all His children. I have taught each of my children and their children that as God is their Father, they are siblings of the Living Christ as God’s own children and siblings of Christ, I taught them to love, to give generously and that if they continue to live as their Father has asked of them, they will inherit His Kingdom and life everlasting.

Mary’s life was not always easy; she gave birth to a child in the most difficult of circumstances. She was forced to flee her home. Mary suffered the death of her Son and bore the pain of watching her Son be abused and accused. But God strengthened her and empowered her to endure the worse and to appreciate the best. I too have had to struggle with difficult living situations. I, too, have had to suffer painful experiences. I too have buried loved ones who left this earth before me. But through it all God has continued to strengthen and empower me.

Yes, by the Grace and Goodness of God, the inspiration and intercession of Mary, the guidance of grandmother I have served my God and my children and their children for almost 90 years. I celebrate this Mother’s Day and thank God and Mary for making me the mother that I am. De Colores!

Corpus Christi 2021

In December 2020, I was inspired by Deacon Timothy Tilghman's article in the Fourth Day News, "ADW Cursillo – This Time is our Time to Model our Method." Deacon Tilghman spoke of two pandemics:

"...there is the havoc put upon us by COVID-19 and the eruption of protests around the world upon the death of George Floyd. It appears that what some have called the United States' original sin, has infected other nations as well."

Deacon Tilghman cited Pope Francis' major writings of Evangelii Gaudium, Laudato Si', and Fratelli Tutti and shared:

"... Pope Francis has invited us to worship the sacred ground of the other, to build new human structures to save the environment, and to bring justice into our environments which is a manifestation of God's love for all."

During Lent this year, I decided to read Fratelli Tutti, as I had read our Pope's other two major writings. On Palm Sunday, my family and I were blessed to hear Mass at St Thomas More Cathedral in Arlington. As the Mass began, the Lord set on my heart our call to spread the Gospel and how I was personally called to respond. I shared some of my thoughts with Deacon Tim Tilghman and Ginny Novack, both of whom gave me feedback and spiritual direction.

The "harvest is plenty," but I see there are three areas where our Cursillo movement could move forward as a community, and I am most thankful for Tim and Ginny's spiritual direction and insights. First, let us continue to strengthen our movement. The virtual revival of the Ultreyas and the School of Leaders have been a great start! I was moved to see people who have been unable to meet with us for years to join virtually, and equally moving was the joy of other Cursillistas as they welcomed them back.

There are many more people that we can help to reconnect. Let us encourage our brothers and sisters to join us online and to upcoming in-person events. The work in evangelism and nurturing of our community is essential.

Secondly, while there will be no Cursillo weekend this year, we could invite prospective candidates to Learning Ultreyas. The current Ultreyas in the virtual format may be a bit overwhelming for a newcomer, but perhaps we could have special open Ultreyas to give a taste of Cursillo to newcomers.

Finally, is our call to more general evangelism, which takes many forms, including helping to foster social justice or restart ministries in our Church that have been shut down or have withered. During the pandemic, evangelism continued as catechism classes became virtual, and in-person courses and seminars such as Alpha and Marriage in Christ were adapted to be held online. As in fostering our own community, the need to meet virtually allowed us to be witnesses to the Gospel in new ways and suggested a way forward that we did not see just 15 months ago. In conclusion, I echo Deacon Tim, who wrote,

"... what Pope Francis calls for in his exhortations is what we have in our Movement already, small groups that represent the diversity of our neighborhoods, gathering to share a common faith and creating the possibility that there will be more saints in heaven."

Paraphrasing, St. Paul in 1 Corinthians, we are all parts of the one Body of Christ. As we begin to move out of the first pandemic let our many and varied gifts provide healing from the wounds of the second pandemic as we grow the Body of Christ. Ultreya!

Cursillo School of Leaders – Celebration Our New Normal

You are invited to Increase Your Friendship Capacity This Summer!

In July, the Cursillo School of Leaders (CSOL) will start to read the latest encyclical of Pope Francis, Fratelli Tutti (Brothers and Sisters All): On Fraternity and Social Friendship.

This document, released in October 2020, is the third encyclical from Pope Francis. Its themes will resonate with Cursillistas - love, peace, friendship, and making the world a more just and kind place. Pope Francis presents this encyclical as an invitation to discipleship built on love that fosters social friendship and universal fraternity.

Inspired by Saint Francis of Assisi, Pope Francis suggests that this call to build solidarity and work for justice must be rooted in our interconnectedness, which recognizes that "God has created all human beings equal in rights, duties and dignity, and has called them to live together as brothers and sisters" (no. 5).

CSOL meets the third Wednesday of the month at 7:00 pm on Zoom.

On Wednesday, July 21, we will discuss the introduction of Fratelli Tutti (paragraphs 1 to 8). We will also have an incredibly special speaker, Donna Valenti, who is English Region 2 Coordinator for National Cursillo. She will give a 30-minute presentation on The Founder and History of Cursillo. On August 18, we will discuss Chapter One, and on September 15, Chapter Two.
